Texas Tears

Terry Allen

I been wrong for so long, accusing you of wrongness
But tonight you broke and you made me right
'Cause I just saw you inside this Texas tavern
By his side, smiling smiles, I never seenSo, I just straightened up and walked in on that bar room
Just as you reached out and kissed his curling mouth
But when you saw me your eyes died
Somewhere deep inside you, it tore me down
I turned around and ran back on outWith Texas tears failing down
Washing my life right out on the ground
Texas tears they're falling down
Running out on you running aroundI went home all alone
Sit down by the telephone
When it rang I knew it was you
Was on the lineYou said, "Baby, please don't mistake
What you seen for a backstreet date
Now, I was just havin' a drink
With a friend of mine"I said, "Damn you, you lyin' Texas woman
You got the lips of an angel
But the devil, he's suckin' your tongue
Yeah, damn you, you lyin' Texas woman
Me an you an that devil too, just done had our run"With Texas tears failing down
Washing my life right out on the ground
Texas tears they're falling down
Running out on you running around
