Constellation

Wilt

Some things can never be explained
Why every sky still looks the same
And I wonder how my world would look without you
Some things can never be explained
Like how our skies remain the same
And I wonder how the sky would look without my star
Sleep seems a dream away and a year too late
Words that can't be spoken stream out my face
And I want to be selfish, I want to be selfish
I want to be selfish, you're my everything
Some things can never be explained
Why does your love remain unchanged?

'Cause I know it wouldn't be the same without you
Sleep seems a dream away and a year too late
Words that can't be spoken stream out your face
And I want to be selfish, I want to be selfish
I want to be selfish, you're my everything
Please don't forget my name
And take me with you when you leave
I've got a lot to lose, I've got to let it go
Please don't forget my name
Please don't forget my name
Please don't forget my name
