I'm on Your Side

Maria Mena

Each confession I make
Translates to you as an insult
We must rid ourselves of this habit
I once heard you say youll never love anyone more
Then why am I still fighting you?
And its never felt like this before
No, we have never fought like this before
But you should knowThat Im on your side
I am on your side
Although it may seem useless
I am on your sideYour hands are bearing one down to the bone
But youre still holding on me
So I tightened my grip
My god I wont let you slip
But can you breath this way
And its never felt like this before
No, weve never fought like this beforeAnd Im on your side
I am on your side
Although it may seem useless
I am on your side
I am on your side
Love was never this frale or so good when its good
No its never felt like this before
No its never felt like this before
