All Our Tomorrows

Ron Sexsmith

All our tomorrow's
And all of our yesterdays
For days we had to borrow
What has already been repaidAll our misgivings
And all of our mistakes
There's no point in us reliving
That bed already has been madeFate has been kind
There's no need to be afraid
Once we leave the past behind
Let it all solomnly fadeAll our tomorrow's
It's like holding on to sand
No footprints for to follow
And nobody understandOnce we leave the past behind
Let it all solemnly fadeAll our tomorrow's
And all of our yesterdays
Were days we had to borrow
What has already been repaid
Were days we had to borrow
What has already been repaid
