Nothing Can Divide Us

Jason Donovan

Don't cry
you must have heard some things about me That made you turn away that made you have your doubts about me.
You were hearing rumours
I can see it in your eyesThey tried to get you to believe that someone else could take your place.You can put your faith in me
I wonder never set you freeHold you head up high and let everybody see:
With love to guide us nothing can divide us.Don't cry there has to be some trust inside usDon't let it slip away don#t ever let a lie divide us.
So don't believe a word they're tell youLife is full of jealous people with a jealous lie to sell you.You can put your faith in me
I would never set you free
...You can put your trust in me
love will have its victoryNothing in the world will ever change what's in my heart:
With love beside us nthing can divide us!You were hearing rumours
I can see it in your faceThey tried to get you to believe that someone else could take your place.
You can put your faith in me
I would never set you free
...With love to guide us nothing can divide usWith love to guide us nothing can divide us.You can put your faith in me
I would never set you free
...You can put your trust in me
love will have its victory
...
