Through Blood and Fire

Virgin Steele

I am the master of this world of ours
You are a thorn in my side
I am the rock upon which you will break
Freedom or death, you decide
For in the end there is no meaning to find
Only the raging sea and I will be there at the doorThrough blood and fire, promises and lies
Through blood and fire, we rise no more tomorrow on your side
Through blood and fire, we riseShatter the sky with your thunder and wrath
To honor the questions we ask
Greatness is granted to those who betray
I am the last of my kindHeaven and hell exist inside us
We've found drown in your raging sea
For I will be there when you die!Through blood and fire, promises and lies
Through blood and fire, we rise no more tomorrow, deceit
Through blood and fire, we riseThrough blood and fire, promises and lies
Through blood and fire, we rise no more tomorrow on your side
Through blood and fire, promises and liesThrough blood and fire, we rise
No more tomorrow on your side
Through blood and fire, we rise!
