I Should Mean More

JamisonParker

face in your front door the one you hide behind you fight with bedroom eyes while i proudly wear mine the entrance that i make will fall so short of grand a hopeful knock sounds tired before my hopeful plans you put your hand in mine it fits so perfectly your whispers between kisses show me all that i could beplease make me not so crazy make me fall apart
make me think beautiful unexpected thoughts i should mean morei trace every curve on your precious face and pray some day youll beg me to beg you run awayplease make me not so crazy
i should mean morei should mean more
i should mean more
