Welcome Home

Tegan And Sara

The suns rays dont bother me
No, they cast down such a wonderful heat
Masking beauty by a terrible fate
If you fly to close and then you turn too lateThe night still confuses me
Wed all get tired and have to sleep eventually
Regardless of the suns demands
Regardless if it made much senseYou moved so far that I know how far
And then you got so sad that I, I bought a carYes, Ill come get you
And I will bring you home
Ill come get you
And I will bring you homeHe sat me down
He said he was incomplete
He thinks true loves gonna get him back on his feet
He said you only find love once in your lifeSo I guess when you find it you gonna hold it right
Youll hold it right
It makes no sense
Cuz theres no sense in it at allWe all wait around
We wait for you to get tired and fall
As your shadow it resumes in me
Yes, your shadow it was made for meShe speaks clearly
He speaks loudly
I speak only clearly loudlyYes, she speaks clearly
He speaks loudly
I speak only clearly loudlyYa, my shadow, well, it resumes with me
Yes, my shadow, well, it was made for me
She told me love will come once in your lifeSo I guess when you find it you gonna hold it right
You gonna hold it right, you hold it right
You moved so far that I knew exactly how far
And then you got so sad that I, I bought a carYes, Ill come get you
And I will bring you home
Ill come get you
And I will bring you homeIll come get you
And Ill say welcome home
