Point of You

Measure

Pick us apart
What are you made of now?
You knew at the start
But everything's turned around

So where is your heart?
When you ignore the sound
Beats on in the dark
Waiting for the turn around

So what is your point of view?
What is the point of you?
What is your point of view?
What is your point?

So this is your heart
Already on this light
When you don't start
When you don't walk away

So what is your point of view?
What is the point of you?
What is your point of view?
What is your point?

What is your point of view?
What is the point of you?
What is your point of view?
What is your point?
