March

El Chikaly

My strength, my strength fadesMy strength fades away
Slowly with the setting sun
The night brought
Its darkness and its stormsAnd the floods that came
Reflected a dull moon
Violent winds raged
Beneath the stars that didn't shineEmptied
Of myself
I fell
To the groundSlowly through the destructionCame a single quiet
Voice
And the breath of His words
ConsumedThe night and brought strength I have never Felt on my ownAnd He held me up
Until I could walk again
And promised
To stay by my side forever
