Simple life

Carolina Liar

An everlasting cigarette, and that's all you want
Waiting for a bus to take you back home
'Cause Tuesday came too soon, Wednesday left you feeling used
Oh tomorrow, at least you hope it's warmDon't you want to live a simple life?
You pray for change before you turn out the lights
You burn a bridge every time it feels right
Oh you don't want to forget where you're fromSo tired of feeling cheap, you're always in need
Innocent, at least that's what you think
You got two beasts to kill, so empty your gun
Oh good intentions, they weren't enoughDon't you want to live a simple life?
You pray for change before you turn out the lights
Burn a bridge every time it feels right
Don't you want to forget where you're from?
Don't you want to forget where you're from?You just want to live a simple life
You pray for change before you turn out the lights
You burn a bridge every time it feels right
Oh you don't want to forget where you're fromYou just want to live a simple life
You pray for change before you turn out the lights
You burn a bridge every time it feels right
Don't you want to forget where you're from?
Don't you want to forget where you're from?
Don't you want to forget where you're from?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/