Should Have Been

We Shot the Moon

I am lost in a crowd
I am all turned around
You were salt in the wound that hasn't healedYou were near now you're far
So now we missed the mark
And the road back to you is no moreI think I'm just dead to you, whoa-oh
The signals not coming through, no
So this is goodbye to you, goodbye to youWhat should have been could have been
A happy end is fading slowly
I might have been the best of them
I didn't win
The saddest story I knowMy enemy is the life you can't see
And the days turn to years
There is no cureI think I'm just dead to you, whoa-oh
The signals not coming through, no
So this is goodbye to youWhat should have been could have been
A happy end is fading slowly
I might have been the best of them
I didn't win
The saddest story I knowGonna get you (get you) now
Gonna get you (get you) now
I'll find a way to win you backYou refuse to believe
In a life spent with me
Who's to blame
I know I've done this beforeWhat should have been could have been
A happy end is fading slowly
I might have been the best of them
I didn't win
The saddest story I knowWhat should have been could have been A happy endWhat should have been could have been A happy end
The saddest story I know

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/