It's That Time

The Alternate Routes

Hurry up and wait, and hurry up again
Hey there how you been?
Yeah the same with me.
Do you believe another year, has come and passed?
I really thought we'd make this one last, but "c'est, la vie."
Its that time of year again, let's sit back and pretendThat we have nothing to be afraid of
Cause we knew, we were made to love
Strung up some lights, and some tinsel too
Singing some songs we knew, from a long long time ago
Gonna make this feeling last all year long
I know where i belong, that's in your arms
The holidays are here again, lets sits back and pretend
That we have nowhere else to be
Just you, just meWe'll turn off our cell phones like we were kids and home alone
Like we have nothing to be afraid of, cause we knew that we were made to love
Let the season remind us dear, what it is we are doing here,
That is to love and to be loved
Its that time of year again, let's sit back and pretend
That we have nothing to be afraid of
Cause we knew, we were made to love
The holidays are here again, lets sits back and pretend
That we have nowhere else to be
Just you, just me
We'll turn off our cell phones like we were kids and home alone
Like we have nothing to be afraid of, cause we knew that we were made to love
