Dreams Never End

New Order

My promise could be your fiend, a given end to your dreams
A simple movement or rhyme could be the smallest of signs
We'll never know what they are or care in its escapable view
There's no escape, so few in fear give in a changing valueTo be given your sight, hid in a long peaceful night
A nervous bride for your eyes, a fractured smile that soon dies
A love that's wrong from your life and soul, a savage mine had begun
Hello, farewell to your love and soul, hello, farewell to your soulNow I know what those hands would do
No looking back now, we're pushing through We'll change these feelings, we'll taste and see
But never guess how the 'Him' would scream
But never guess how the 'Him' would scream
But never guess how the 'Him' would scream

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/