Broken

Sandra Szabo

Please don't remind me of what I've done
Let's try and see the sun
Everything reminds me of what I've done
And I can't keep moving onI tried to blame it on you
I tried to blame in on the world
I tried to blame it on turning into another role
But you gotta knowI wish I could undo it all
And purify my soul
I know it's killing you
Please trust me it has been breaking me tooI am broken to my bones
Next to the waste all alone
I am down on my knees
Beggin' please set me free
And release what is left of me
Behind my eyes is just another lie
It's hidden by my smile
Front stage beauty never shows the pain in
And dark shades under my eyesI am broken to my bones
Next to the waste all alone
I am down on my knees
Beggin' please set me free
And release what is left of meIt's been said that time will kill the pain
But right now our lives and time stand still
We're reaching our end and I just watch it happen
If you let me I'll prove I can make us whole againI tried to blame it on you
I tried to blame in on the world
I tried to blame it on turning into another role
I know it's killing you
But please trust me it has been breaking me tooI am broken to my bones
Next to the waste all alone
I am down on my knees
Beggin' please set me free
And release what is left of meI am broken to my bones
Next to the waste all alone
I am down on my knees
Beggin' please...I am all torn up inside
Got a burned-out sort of mind
I am sickened by the scum
Looking back at me

Forgive what is left of meOh I am broken!
I am broken
