Hardway

Bodyjar

There's a place in my mind
Where I leave it all behind
A place I store the fools
That have put me down before
There's a place in my mind
Where these fools are locked behind a doorYou know I'll never let them out
'Til they recognize that
One day I'll be gone
You'll be there and I'll be gone
You won't know what I'm looking
You'll be there and I'll be goneYoung lady, think about the past
And how you've done me wrong
And how you've done me wrong before this time
Young lady, think about your friends
And not yourself next time
If you get the chance, another timeNow you're all full grown
I've left you all alone
Are you happy? Did you want it?
Did you need it? You can have it!
