We All Have Fears

The Cog is Dead

Once in a quiet little town in just a couple hours once the sun went down a crew began assembling a thrilling new attraction more exciting than a merry-go-roundThis was the first one of its kind a thrilling new attraction called a roller coaster ride but the people wouldn't ride it they said, "What if we collided with another car and died?"Well we all have fears and we know some day our time is gonna come but no matter how you cut it everyone will kick the bucket when our days are doneSo don't waste your years doing nothing with the little time you got don't just sit right there and piddle go on out and live a little or else you'll only stand around and rotAlistair was quiet as a mouse a modest little man who was afraid to leave his house he spent all of his hours as he worried and he cowered hiding safely while he grumbled and he grousedWell after he waited many years his tiny little ticker had a jamming of its gears for years the cost of worry sent his heart into a flurry and he finally died of fear

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/