No Doubling Back

Jason Mraz

I would like to hold your hand
As we shifted through this twisted abandon
I would like to think
That you'd know your wayWe have dodged the ropes of rain
Where the cats and the dogs where they love to play on
A handsome fella with umbrella
Who once saved you your dayAnd I will ask you to open my door from the side
From the inside after you drive
Because I wanna stay awake for a little bit longer
That's whyWarm the engine compartment up
While I stand here and think it up
But it's a little too early to bury the worries
Still this wish is my commandAnd aha ha, well I wonder, wonder which one of us
Is gonna state the obvious
And aha ha, well I wonder if you already know
That I gotta let you goI know this ain't the way I planned it
I guess I ain't the great romantic
And I'm not doublin' back now
No doublin' back, doublin' back nowWell, before I catch you complainin'
That it hardly rains at all
Let me stop to lock my top
For fear of it fallin' harder[Incomprehensible] eyes [Incomprehensible] easily
Arms are scars of where
The war was waged on
Words that we heard as a joke
How did it drown our love? Oh loveWhen it rains, it's sure to pour
But when I look in your eyes
I fear I won't see surprise
That I'm not doublin' backAnd aha ha, well, I wonder, wonder which one of us
Is gonna state the obvious
And aha ha, well, I wonder if you already know
That I gotta let you goI know this ain't the way I planned it
I guess I ain't the great romantic
And I'm not doublin' back now
No doublin' back, doublin' back nowHere it comes
The drop of rain if hit my tongue
And I swear I love you all
[Incomprehensible]You see there ain't no way, no way I planned it
I guess I ain't the great romantic

And I'm not doublin' back now
No doublin' back, doublin' back nowNo turnin' around
No doublin' back, doublin' back now
No doublin' back, doublin' back now
