Forever Family

Ann Beretta

Searching my mind for something to say, The sun's coming up from a three state drive, 14,000 miles and nothing less than sympathy, I know we'll make it, I know we'll survive. Some might say we'll amount to nothing, But hey man, Let me tell you something, Atleast we're still fighting for something we really believe, And I know that I can go on and on and on. So let it be known, We're young, We're strong, We're stuck together forever, And let it be me who takes you to the water's edge. Forever family!! We're one, We're young, And we're together, Let it be me who takes you to the water's edge. Forever family!! Staring out the window on the west side of Cleveland, The glass girl comes, You know we got to beat 'em, Another cup of coffee to get us through this mess, I still remember you in the red dress. Some might say we'll amount to nothing, But hey man, Let me tell you something, Atleast we're still fighting for something we really believe, And I know that I can go on and on and on. So let it be known, We're young, We're strong, We're stuck together forever, And let it be me who takes you to the water's edge. Forever family!! We're young, We're strong, And were together, And let it be me who takes you to the water's edge. Forever family!! Searching my mind for something to say, The sun's coming up from a three state drive, 14,000 miles and nothing less than sympathy, I know we'll make it, I know we'll survive! So let it be known, We're young, We're strong, We're stuck together forever, And let it be me who takes you to the water's edge, Forever family!! We're young, We're strong, And we're together, And let it be me who takes you to the water's edge. Forever family!!
