Pack Your Things and Go

The Softies

Where are you off to this time?
I promise I'm not chasing you
No one's demanding your loyalty
I just thought that maybe this time
I'd come tooJust when I need you
You pack your things and goYou made promises you didn't always keep
But I guess that's what youth is for
I give you presents but you throw them all away
I've been under the impression that I mattered to you moreJust when I need you
You pack your things and go
