Dance Along the Edge

Rob Anthony Dire

Sometimes we laugh like children
Running hand in hand
We've never felt like this before
And never will againSometimes we cry like babies
I hold you to my heart
Just can't stand to see you sad
It tears me all apartAnd we're so afraid
And it's such a shame
There is no reason we should doubt it
And the things we wanna say we never saidAnd we look away
And it's all okay
And never really talk about it
It's a shame the way we dance along the edgeDance along the edge
Dance along the edgeWe always seem so careful we're always so unsure
Our past mistakes they make us shaky eyes on the door
When do we stop searching for what we're searching for
When it comes, we question love and try for moreAnd we're happy here, but we live in fear
We've seen a lot of temples crumble
Some of flesh and blood and love is under glass
Will we come undone? Will we turn and run?
And will we know it when we find it?
It's a game the way we dance along the edgeDance along the edge
Dance along the edgeAnd we'll walk the line and we'll do our time
For just as long as we've been given
And pretend that we don't hear the things they've said
Can we promise love? Is it all too much?
And do our old souls still believe it?
It's insane the way we dance along the edgeDance along the edge
Dance along the edgeDance along the edge
Dance along the edgeDance along the edge
Dance along the edge
Dance along the edge
Dance along the edgeDance along the edge
Dance along the edge
Dance along the edge
Dance along the edge
