Come Through For You

Javier Colon

I'm so sick and tired
Of making excuses
For why things are how they areI know I'm the reason
But I hope you're not thinking
That I can't turn this boat aroundNow in every love story
There's moments of glory
And times when my try just won't doYou lost all your trust
Now you don't expect much
From me but I'm gonna prove this to you
Oh that I'm gonna come through for youLalalalalalalalalalaTake me on it's just a song
And try to believe in this something
Something worth holding on toI know you waited so long
But try to believe in this something
Cause it wouldn't mean much without you
And I promise someday I'll come throughSteve Perry once said ???
It ain't supposed to be
After all of these years and a river of tears
You say you have sacrificed, spending years of your life
Waiting on promises and maybesIt couldnt be more true
??
Time to give some to meLalalalalalalalalalaTake me on it's just a song
And try to believe in this something
Something worth holding on toI know you waited so long
But try to believe in this something
Cause it wouldn't mean much without you
And I promise someday I'll come throughLalalalalalalalalala (x2)Take me on it's just a song
And try to believe in this something
Something worth holding on toI know you waited so long
But try to believe in this something
Cause it wouldn't mean much without youYour the moon and the sun and i will be the one you coming running to
