Here I Am, Send Me

Keith Green

Oh Lord, there's just so much to be done
Oh Lord, so many souls to be won
Oh Lord, this world is falling apart
Dying for love from a broken heartHere am I, send me
Though there's really not that much I can do
What I have seems so small
But I want to give it all to youOh Lord, you said the harvest was great
But Lord, looks like the workers are late
It's getting hard to understand
How they ignore your great commandHere am I, send me
Though you said the ones who labor are few
Still my heart hears the call
And I wanna give it all to youOh, just to reach the ones nobody does Give up my pride and even work in the mud
I wanna be like those who spilled their blood
And gave it like water to youOh Lord, there's just so much to be done
Oh Lord, so many souls to be won
It seem this world is falling apart
Lord won't you send me?Oh Lord, there's just so much to be done
Oh Lord, so many souls to be won
Oh Lord, this world is falling apart
Crying for love from a broken heartHere am I, send me
Though there's really not that much I can do
What I have seems so small
But I want to give it all to youHere am I, send me
Though you said the ones you've chosen are few
Still my heart hears you call
And I wanna give it all to you

Songwriters
Keith Gordon Green;Wendell BurtonPublished by BIRDWING MUSIC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/