I'm Lost

Nat King Cole

I'm lost
I'm like a king without a throne
I'm lost
Just like a dog without its bone
I'm walking 'round in circles doing things I shouldn't do
That's how much I'm lost without youI'm lost
I'm like a heart without its beat
I'm lost
Just like an army in defeat
I'm like the autumn trees that shed their leaves when summer's through
That's how much I'm lost without youEverything about me seems so strange, dear
My friends tell me I don't appear the same
I go around acting silly dilly
I can't even remember my name, babyI'm lost
Because the phone it won't won't ring
I'm lost
A pet canary wouldn't sing
I'm lost because each souvenir you've left has faded blue
But how much I'm lost without youEverything about me seems so strange, dear
My friends tell me I don't appear the same
I go around acting silly dilly
I can't even remember my name, babyI'm lost
I'm like the phone that never rings
I'm lost
Without those little precious things
I'm lost because each souvenir you've left has faded blue
And that's how much I'm lost without you
