Vision Quest

Bloodlet

I came to see the end but it already began a lifetime of consequence unleashed in a moment I rolled up on the end with my dick in my hand where had the time gone and who are my friends I came to see the end I saw it second hand unholy waters heaven sent to take the lamb there comes a time my friend when you must defend what you believe at least that's what they saidI wish that someone would stop me from driving into the sun I hope that someone will be there when I crash and burnI hear it's unhealthy to inhale methane through a hollow stick but you'd eat a shit sandwich if you thought it would make you look slick down here we don't take unkindly to your metal debauchery I came to see the end but it already began I sat down with misery and we became friends we rolled up on the end helluva time we all had now that we've been there we won't come back again I hear it's unhealthy to inhale methane through a hollow stick although the motive is still suspect the outcome remains the same the bleeding injustice you've unearthed smells of its disdain

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/