Trapeze

Decameron

I'll never tell you what I saw or how it made me breathe I'll never repeat what I heard how long it took me to leave I'll never tell you what I saw or how it made my smile freeze 'cause this world is a whirlwind but I'm holding the trapeze and I'll never tell you what I saw I'll never tell you who I loved or how they made me free I'll never tell you how I slept back when I was fifteen I thought that I could just forget the bricks that have built me but this world is a whirlwind and I'm holding the trapeze and I'll never tell you who I loved but if I could tell you one thing I would tell you I'm not leaving if I could show you one thing oh my mistakes have shaped me into who I am, and who I am just wants to make you home I'll never tell you why I drive into the night and back again I hardly speak of my hometown my little hands in the cement I'll never tell you what I saw close the door, swallow the key but this world is whirlwind and I'm holding the trapeze yeah this world keeps on turning love is carried endlessly yeah this world is a whirlwind and I'm holding the trapeze so I'll never tell you what I saw
