No Mercy

Tad Morose

I came to seek among mortal men for souls like you
And I have seen just what it means
In pain, in agony, a broken heart is true and even then you cannot seeNo, not too long ago
I found you in my dreams
I came your way to help you see
Find perfect harmony
Find balance, peace of mind
But then you threw away the keySaid take this wizardry
This magic of a kind
I have a statement for youNo mercy!
No! No!
No mercy!Why lend a helping hand?
You know they snap and bite
And break your heart, well add that too Strangers like demons bow down and when they do
They'd love to have a piece of you
