High Class Woman

Blues Pills

blue birds flying so far from the ground green grass is growing, and the sun is high old man sitting on a bench of stone far from the nothing, far from home dreams within him are running wild hair grown long, he's the summer's child fear sends chills down through his bones sits back waiting to die alonehigh class woman, high class man so much power held in your hand high class woman, high class man day is coming and you'll all be damnedhey, do you understand? day is coming and you'll all be damnedgold sun setting on a silver dawn drift away into the great beyond truth is waiting for you to find take my hand, leave this world behindhigh class woman, high class man so much power held in your hand
day is coming and you'll all be damnedwalk with me into the morning light midnight sun blinds my eyes let your soul drift into the sea set your mind and your body free hey yeah
yeah yeah set your mind and your body freehigh class woman, high class man
so much power held in your hand
day is coming and you'll all be damned
