Gravitational Pull

Chris LeDoux

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

It's a source of speculation, mornin', noon and night
'Bout who is and who ain't, which way's wrong or right
Well I'd describe the feelin' but shoot I don't have clue
And if the truth were known darlin', well neither do youFor a long time now I've been tryin' to figure out this whole rigmarole
You know it seems to me
There ain't nothing nowhere that's been written in stone
About the how or why love can turn a body upside down
It's all mud and guts and bar-b-que sauce, finger painting the townWe'll it's the strongest attraction in the universe
Ain't nothing better baby, ain't nothing worse
Study after study, nobody understands
The gravitational pull between a woman and a manWell it'll lift you up or knock you down, take away your common sense
It'll plant your feet on solid ground and fill you heart as a consequence
And her words will make you thirsty for a drink from her deep well
And his tears are gonna burn you like hot lava and make you feel like hellAnd it's the strongest attraction in the universe
Ain't nothing better baby, ain't nothing worse
Study after study, nobody understands
The gravitational pull between a woman and a manSo girl when it comes to you and me
And the kind of love that we feel in Well I don't want no Betty Crocker
Without a dash of Mae West thrown inI want to go outside and dance with you
Barefooted in the pouring rain
With the lightning crashing all around
People sayin' we've gone insaneIt's the strongest attraction in the universe
Ain't nothing better baby, ain't nothing worse
Study after study nobody understands
The gravitational pull between a woman and a manWell it's the strongest attraction in the universe
Ain't nothing better baby, ain't nothing worse
Study after study nobody understands

The gravitational pull between a woman and a man

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/