Cover Me

Bebo Norman

Cover me, cover up my tears
Cover up this man who's covered up in fear
I need a peace of mind, I need a piece of You
To cover all that's gone and everything that's new
'Cause You unveil me with Your mercy
I want to breathe You in
And You unfold me, then You hold meSo cover up my heart and cover up my soul
And cover up this world and everything I know
You cover up the sky, You cover up the sea
You cover up the mountains and every part of me
And everything single breath I breathe cover meI am still alive and covered up in years
Covered up in lines as innocence appears
So give me a peace of mind, give me a piece of You
To cover all that's old with everything that's new'Cause You unveil me with Your mercy
I I want to breathe You in
And You unfold me, then You hold meSo cover up my heart and cover up my soul
And cover up this world and everything I know
You cover up the sky, You cover up the sea
You cover up the mountains and every part of me
And everything single breath I breathe, cover me'Cause You unveil me with Your mercy
I want to breathe You in
And You unfold me then You hold me
I want to shed this skin'Cause You unveil me with Your mercy
You unfold me, then You hold me
You unbreak me, would You take me homeAnd cover up my heart and cover up my soul
And cover up this world and everything I know
You cover up the sky, You cover up the sea
You cover up the mountains and every part of me
And everything single breath I breathe, just cover me, just cover me
