Evan Way

Evan Taubenfeld

What if she got in the car?
And they never even crashed.
Would it change who we all are?
Would I have this photograph?
Now I wonder everyday, how a telephone pole missed him.
I'm so glad he stayed awake - 'Cause I don't think I'd be living.Don't be ashamed,
You made a mistake.
We'll all be okay.And things go wrong, sometimes we fall.
The world turns and we move along, and that's what makes us who we are.
So just be strong, 'Cause life's not long.
Before ya know it we'll all be gone,
And this will be the last today, ever.Well the doctor's sad to say, that they thought he may not make it.
As the tears spilled down her face, she shouted 'I can't take this.'
Now I wonder everyday, about the stuff he must be thinking.
I just don't know how to say, that I wish you would stop drinking.You're not to blame.
We've all made mistakes.
And it is okay.Things go wrong, sometimes we fall.
The world turns and we move along, and that's what makes us who we are.
So just be strong, 'Cause life's not long.
Before ya know it we'll all be gone,
And this will be the last today.Don't you want to change?
I just hope that you'll do it.
What we learned, on Evan Way.
And maybe the best thing to happen now.Things go wrong, sometimes we fall.
The world keeps turning and we move along.
And that's what makes us who we are.
So just be strong, 'cause life's not long.
Before ya know it, we'll all be gone.
And this will be the last today.
(It's so beautiful it makes you want to cry.)
This could be the last today, ever.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/