Still Ain't Over You

Rob Thomas

I should have never let you go, always another
I need this more than you will know, but there's always another
A million byways and highways and there's always another
Someone else to pay your way and try to take your innocence
There's always heartbreakI hold steady while you're shaking me loose
You keep breaking me down but I still ain't over you
I've been living like there's nothing to lose
And I'm telling you now that I still ain't over youI keep your letters by my bed and there's always another
I hear your voice inside my head and there's always another
A waste of time wasted our days and there's always another
Someone else to make you suffer
Make you think this whole thing overI hold steady while you're shaking me loose
You keep breaking me down but I still ain't over you
I've been living like there's nothing to lose
And I'm telling you now that I still ain't over youI still ain't over you
You're breaking me down and I still ain't over you
And I got nothing to lose and I still ain't over youI hold steady while you're shaking me loose
You keep breaking me down but I still ain't over you
I've been living like there's nothing to lose
And I'm telling you now that I still ain't home, I ain't home
I've been sleeping around but I still ain't over you
I got nothing to lose, oh no, oh no I still ain't over you

Songwriters
Thomas, Robert KellyPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/