Everybody Wants Somebody

Patrick Stump

I, tonight, I feel like being alone.
If you don't mind, if you don't mind would you please be so kind to close the door behind you.
It's been a long, long time since I found this line of doubt how low.
So I deny I feel like,
I feel like, I feel, baby now?
Everybody wants somebody
who doesn't want them,
or want somebody else, baby.
You want somebody?
Oh, you want someone?
Somebody else, somebody else?
And don't get hurt, don't you get hurt.
And don't get hurt, don't you get.
And don't get hurt, don't you get hurt now.
And don't get hurt, don't you get.
A young man is a pulled pin

looking for the grenade, hey.
A you woman will drive you to places
you never meant to go.
But epiphany is such a clich

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/