Here In My Heart

Jodi Benson

I don't want to kiss you good night
I'll just keep on holding you tight
'Cause baby, I know. You'll change and you'll grow.
You'll get bigger with each morning light.

I know that the sky's full of stars.
And dreams call your name from afar.
I'm anxious to see, all you're gonna be.
But I'm sure gonna miss who you are.

CHORUS
But I'll keep you, right here, in my heart.
And I'll memorize each little part.
'Cause one day you'll go. And I'll miss you so.
But I'll keep you, right here, in my heart.

Each tooth that you'll gain or you'll lose...
And each time you'll need bigger shoes...
Each step that you take, will be further away,
But to stop you is not what I choose.

These fingers that curl around my hand,
Must do things that no others can.
I know your not mine, but Gods own design,
And I want you to follow His plan.
