Hearts Just Beat

Hayden

Do you want to know my game
I don't really have one I'm just passing this wayDo you want to know my name
Its just one more thing you might learn to hate one dayMaking every body see
I was on the side of love, we were meant to beAnd I'm walking with the ones whose hearts just beatI'll never forget your face, when your eyes told me what your lips could not sayAnd now she just walked away
Dragging y heart through the streets back to her placeMaking every body see
I was on the side of love we were meant to be
But now I am one of those whose hearts just beat(chorus)
I don't need to blame love
But I guess I do sort ofNow I don't want to feel love
I don't want to be lovedI don't mean to blame love
But I guess I do sort of (musical)Chorus repeats
