Without A Word Of Warning

Eric Parkin

Without a word of warning my life has begun
Without a word of warning two hearts beat as one
From out of nowhere you came to me
A breeze passed by whispering your name to meAnd without a word of warning, strange as it seems
We kissed and with that kiss you invaded my dreams
I don't know how it happened out of the blue up above
You came along to answer my song of loveI don't know how it ever happened out of the blue up above
You came along to answer my song of love
