Once upon a time
I was walking down the street and I saw you in your tower looking down; so fine so I reached up to meet you, greet you but now I know

You never think about tomorrow and living within words and lies that waste up all your time with sorrow and you canâ€™t get your living down

Now your mom sees you heave sees your heavy breathing sheâ€™s got to say hello I was under the covers and I soon was discovered and you canâ€™t even cry as I go but now

You never think about tomorrow

Now I see you every day and itâ€™s something less than magical keeping up with your insane ways and pabulum vocal static although now

You never think about tommorrow
and living within words and lies
that waste up all your time with sorrow
and you canâ€™t get your living down
