Worth Dying For

Rise Against

Set me off like dynamite
Strapped tight around my waist
We are the ones in competition
But claim this ain't no race
Let's goTake a breath and explode like bullets
Tearing through the wind
Cut me up with a razor blade
Then try to separate the skinNow in the white flames are burning flags
We found a world worth dying for, yeah
We've been battered so hard that
We don't feel anymoreTake me from this world
Save me, what if we all die young
So take me from this world
Save me, what if we all die youngSend me off on the morning breeze
So far away from here
Fill your eyes in the strains of thought
Outside the warm embracing airI'm moving slow like a glacier melting
Watch me dissipate
I searched for love in an empty world
But all I found was hateNow in the white flames are burning flags
We found a world worth dying for, yeah
We've been battered so hard that
We don't feel anymoreTake me from this world
Save me, what if we all die young
So take me from this world
Save me, what if we all die youngDon't ask me why, 'cause I don't know
Don't ask me how, I'm gonna solve this on my own
Don't ask me why, 'cause I don't know
These things I'll never face, scratch out the warning raceIn the wreckage of a job well done
I saw a place I'd never seen before, yeah
In that moment I refused
To close my eyes anymoreSo take me from this world
Save me, what if we all die young
So take me from this world
Save me, what if we all die youngSo take me, so take me
