Your Darkest Hour

Evergrey

Feel free to question me
Let out the hate you feel
Blame all your doubts on me
And your caving realityI will not judge, I cannot judge
So feel free to question me
I can't, cannot judge
No [Incomprehensible] judgeI would hold you when you're sleeping
I would guide you when you're drifting
I'd be the light you seek in your darkest hourI will show you how to leave it
Out of the darkness and into the light
Leave it, I will show you how to leave it
To find a new day and a vision in brightFeel free to question me
Let out the hate you feel
Walk through insanity
And awake into crystal clarityI will show you how to leave it
Out of the darkness and into the light
Leave it, I will show you how to leave it
To find a new day and a vision in brightI will show you how to leave it
Out of the darkness and into the light
Leave it, I will show you how to leave it
To find a new day and a vision in bright
