Beacon

Belerophon

Wait For something more
When You show
I followThe beacon is calling me the light that never dies reflections thrown above the sea casts shadows in the skyStanding right in front of you Is where I need to be Reliving this is something new
And something finallyTake the deep end
And swim 'til you can stand
Cause it will make a difference in the endTrip the shudder
And keep the picture close
Save it until you need it the most(I'm coming home)
I'm coming home
