

Jealous Minds Think Alike

You Me At Six

I guess now is a good time to tell the truth
The pedigree I carry will swallow you
But I am not what you are
I am flawless in every way
Birds eye view
I'm watching you Sad sad sight for sore sore eyes and a headache for the weakest of minds
You've got the boys, the boys all tongue tied, but I know they're wasting their time
Go You can be the ghost in my hall
You can be the smile I don't want
I will be the fly on your wall
You can be the distance in between
You can be everything I need
You will be the girl I don't call Oh just imagine what I thought, when I opened up that door
It was a million things to one
And oh just imagine what they'll think
When they see me lead you north
Hell, they'll be losing sleep and you're wrong You can be the ghost in my hall
You can be the smile I don't want
I'll be the fly on your wall
You can be the distance in between
You can be everything I need
You'll be the girl I don't call It's so wrong
So wrong
It's so wrong You can be ghost in my hall
You can be the smile I don't want
I'll be the fly on your You can be ghost in my hall
You can be the smile I don't want
I'll be the fly on your wall
You can be the distance in between
You can be everything I need
You'll be the girl I don't call Jealous minds think alike
But you're a damn damn tie
Wasting all my time
You are in love
