Jealous Minds Think Alike

You Me At Six

I guess now is a good time to tell the truth
The pedigree I carry will swallow you
But I am not what you are
I am flawless in every way
Birds eye view

I'm watching youSad sad sight for sore sore eyes and a headache for the weakest of minds You've got the boys, the boys all tongue tied, but I know they're wasting their time

GoYou can the ghost in my hall

You can be the smile I don't want

I will be the fly on your wall

You can be the distance in between

You can be everything I need

You will be the girl I don't callOh just imagine what I thought, when I opened up that door It was a million things to one

And oh just imagine what they'll think

When they see me lead you north

Hell, they'll be losing sleep and you're wrong You can the ghost in my hall

You can be the smile I don't want

I'll be the fly on your wall

You can be the distance in between

You can be everything I need

You'll be the girl I don't callIt's so wrong

So wrong

It's so wrong You can be ghost in my hall

You can be the smile I don't want

I'll be the fly on yourYou can be ghost in my hall

You can be the smile I don't want

I'll be the fly on your wall

You can be the distance in between

You can be everything I need

You'll be the girl I don't callJealous minds think alike

But you're a damn damn tie

Wasting all my time

You are in love
