I've Been Hearing That You're Freaky

Jonny Craig

Back and forth we always go, following the light
Over these broken cobblestones I call my life
Tell me, who's to blame? And how many of you feel ashamed
To say you turned your back in style?
I can't wait, it's your body taking over me
And I can't wait, it's your body taking over me
How did she get in my head?
How did she get in my head?

Movements that shake the earth
Somehow it feels so perfect
Surrounded by this madness
It keeps floating around my head
Inside, inside, inside, inside
I can't wait, it's your body taking over me
And I can't wait, she's taking over me
I can't wait, it's your body taking over me
I can't wait, it's your body taking over me
