Time Alone

Joshua Hyslop

Time alone can't save you
If that's what you're waiting for
It's the end of all your battles
As you're walking out the door
And you wear that face so bravely
Gather up your clothes

And you say you have to go, woah
And you say you have to go, woah

Time alone can waste you
If it's where you place your hope
And with all my uphill struggles
How long could you go?
You wear that face so bravely
Stand out in the rain

But honey, I take all the blame, woah
Honey, I take all the blame, woah

Well, time they say can heal you
But that's harder to believe
When you meet the brokenhearted
And see what it meant to leave
And with all my misconceptions
Of what it takes to change

I guess I'll end up just the same, woah
I guess I'll end up just the same, woah (woah)

Lyrics submitted by Kennedy Parrish.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/