Holding On For Life

Ellie Goulding

Enemy, used to be
Part of you, bittersweet
But now you tell me lies
Up and down, cold and hot
Swear to God, got to stop
'Cause I can't sleep at nightIf you wanted love like this
Blowing up with every kiss
Should've known better
'Cause you find yourself alone
Chilling you right to the bone
No, should've known betterYou and me just
Running towards the light
Giving up the fight
Hoping we survive
You and me just
Strangers in the night
Giving up the fight
Waiting to ignite
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for lifeLost in you, lost in me
Afraid of love, in too deep
So we just run and hide
Lightning fast, felt the crash
Scared to lose, fear attacks
We only know goodbyeYou and me just
Running towards the light
Giving up the fight
Hoping we survive
You and me just
Strangers in the night
Giving up the fight
Waiting to ignite
Holding on for life
Holding on for life

Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for lifeIf you wanted love like this
Blowing up with every kiss
You find yourself alone
Chilling you right to the bone
No, should've known betterHopelessly holding on
To all those perfect nights
Let's pretend it's not gone
And say we'll never dieYou and me just
Running towards the light
Giving up the fight
Hoping we survive
You and me just
Strangers in the night
Giving up the fight
Waiting to ignite
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for life
Holding on for lifeHopelessly holding on
To all those perfect nights
Let's pretend it's not gone
And say we'll never die
Say we'll never die
