Waitin' for the Time

Pretty Maids

It really was a farewell my life should change, the time should tell should I walk forever out on the lonely roadsThe way of life, the game of love some of the things I've been thinking of should we rejoin together only heaven knowsIt's just like my world is burning won't you help me through the weels of life, they seem stop turning it depends on youI'm lost, I'm caught in a nightmare won't you set me free out of the chains and the memort pain I'm blinded I can't see[Chorus:] Waitin' for the time to come I guess it's the right thing to do Waitin' for the only one I'm waitin' for youPassion and love, I'll never teach it but I still hope, that one day I'll reach it I know I treat you in the wrong way sometimes I cheated you night and day[Chorus]I had my chances, I did abuse them the circumstances, all made me loose them I was a fool yeah, I was on fire too much too cruel and too much a liarWhere can I find the answer tell me who can say it's tearing my heart come lead me to the way I'm sitting in these days of sorrow thinking of these days of joy but there might be a day torrow where happiness can't be destroyed[Solo][Chorus]Now I am dreaming, just can't forget you when you were leaving, how could I let you you were my life wire, a true connection but I can't reach you, cause there's no reaction[Chorus]

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/