Sweet Little Down & Out

Mojave Lords

there was a time thought my mind could change the time killers gonna re-arrange I just sits in the corner waiting to break all of the angels coming awake

you better watch your back I'm on top again
and when the sun turns black you're gonna need a friend pure indecision was an early grave and bad news a mortal soul to save I think the poison was a light that shines to chase the devil messing up my mind

you better watch your back
I'm on top again
and when the sun turns black you're gonna reach the end my sweet little down and out you never have nothing to show and now you got no where to go and no one is better than you so tell yourself another lie so what about letting go and never let your feelings show they only bring you heartbreak

you better watch your back
I'm on top again
and when the sun turns black you're gonna need me then

my sweet little down and out
you never have nothing to show
and now you got no where to go
and no one is better than you

so tell yourself another lie
so what about letting go
and never let your feelings show
they only bring you heartbreak

Lyrics Submitted by Marc

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/