Innocence Again

Switchfoot

Do you remember when
You were way back then
You held the world inside your hands
When you told me love
Was the strongest stuff
Your strength was innocenceBut, oh man, the signs of the times are omens
You're starting the day in
No man's land againWho are you gonna be?
When you're on your knees
Who do you believe?
Oh-oh-oh fear is a lonely man
You've been given innocence
You've been given innocence againYou should know by now
That your darkest hour
Is when your broken heart goes down
It's a bitter end
When the sweet begins
Grace is sufficiencyBut, oh dear, we'll never deserve it
No dear, we never could earn it
Now, here, the choice is yoursWho are you gonna be?
When you're on your knees
Who do you believe?
Oh-oh-oh fear is a lonely man
You've been given innocence
You've been given innocence againGrace is high and low
Grace is high and low
Grace is high and low
We'll never be the sameWho are you gonna be?
When you're on your knees
Who do you believe?
Oh-oh-oh fear is a lonely man
You've been given innocence
You've been given innocence againYou've been given innocence, innocence, innocence
Who are you gonna be?
And who are you gonna be?
And who are you gonna be?
You've been given innocence
