Born to Live

Lil Scrappy

I've had enough, I wanna hear the engines on
This town is rough, full of fear only, I don't know, I don't know why
I pick my bones, try to fix the stores and stories
When all the sinners are leaders, we all become breeders
And I don't know, I don't whyCome on baby, we were never gonna go back home again
Oh baby, we were born to live
I'll take you somewhere no one else can get as far as us
A restless heart, a loaded gun we watched the city flood
Awake in a dream just dreaming of us waking
Why don't we runaway, we can make it, we were born to liveSaddened eyes, I know she's hurting though she wears it well
Lonely nights, surrounded by a million fires that burn in her mind
She sits alone, waiting for the sweeter story
And she would carry the moon and the stars in her eyes
If they would allow her to tryCome on baby, we were never gonna go back home again
Oh baby, we were born to live
I'll take you somewhere, no one else can get as far as us
A restless heart, a loaded gun, we watched the city flood
Awake in a dream just dreaming of us waking
Why don't we runaway, we can make it, we were born to liveShe sits alone, waiting for the sweeter story
When all the sinners are leaders, we all become breeders
And I don't know, I don't know whyCome on baby, we were never gonna go back home again
Oh baby, we were born to live
I'll take you somewhere, no one else can get as far as us
A restless heart, a loaded gun, we watched the city flood
Awake in a dream just dreaming of us waking
Why don't we runaway, we can make it, we were born to liveWe were born to liveWhy don't we runaway, we can make it, we were born to live
