Vagabond

Spencer Day

The morning sun is creeping in I wake and dont know where i am I keep moving onI take a breath
I look around
I see the boxes on the ground
I keep moving onAnother picture taken from a frame another city but they are all the sameIm easy come and easy go and anywhere the wind may blow Thats where i belong I keep moving onIts time to close another door and dont know what im searching for Remind me remind me
Every time I run away
I pray that someone somethings got to find me remind meCuz I was born a vagabond
I never stay for anyone whether right or wrong
I keep moving onAnother picture taken from a frame
another city but theyre all the sameIts time to close another door
dont know what im searching for
Remind me remind me
Every time I run away
I pray that someone somethings got to find me remind meI was born in vagabond never stay for anyone Whether right or wrong
I keep moving on
I keep moving on
